ADDITIONAL LEAGUE RULES SETUP
I. OVERVIEW The FLAG League (Fantasy League Anything Goes) is a dynasty fantasy football salary cap league that closely mirrors the real NFL configuration. There are 32 franchises divided into 2 Conferences, 4 Divisions per Conference, using all-NFL players including Independent Defensive Players (IDP). The regular season will consist of 17 fantasy games that are played during the first 13 weeks of NFL Regular Season, using double-header weeks to reach the 17 game mark within the first 13 weeks of the NFL regular season. The playoffs take place during weeks 14-17 of the NFL season. The top seven overall franchises move on to the playoffs with a bye week for the top franchise in each Conference. The seven playoff franchises are made up of the four Division Winners and three Wildcard franchises per Conference. The league is governed by a Commissioner (1 owner) and League Council (2 additional owners). The role of the Commissioner and League Council is to maintain all aspects of the league. II. OWNER EXPECTATIONS The health of any fantasy league is dependent on the active participation of each owner. The purpose of the league is to have fun, while at the same time indulging in a nerd-level of attention to detail. It is expected that each owner actively participates on a week to week basis during the season and throughout key periods of the offseason, most notably the free agent auction and rookie draft. 1. Activity Each owner is expected to be active in the management of their franchise, aware of upcoming landmark dates, voting in league polls, etc. Lineups must be set each week even if you are legally tanking (more on this later). If an owner does not set their lineup manually, the previous week's lineup will be used. In the event that something comes up in real life and you are unable to meet the weekly expectations of the league you must contact the commissioner or league council so appropriate measures can be put into place to temporarily manage your franchise. If you fail to meet the expectations of owner activity without a reasonable explanation, a warning will be given. Repeated violations will result in punishments that are deemed appropriate by the commissioner and league council. Such punishments may start with minor consequences and escalate to potential banishment from the league depending on the severity of the violations. 2. Communication While it is not a requirement of the league to accept or propose trade offers, each owner is expected, at a minimum, to respond to all trade offers. Whether an owner is interested in an offer or not, the owner must respond. Repeatedly not responding to trade offers and other communications (league polls, email communication, etc) will be interpreted as a lack of desire to actively participate in the league, and serve as grounds for punishment. 3. Behavior

Every owner is expected to conduct themselves in a civil and respectful way. That said, "trash talk" and even talking some "sh%@" in regards to player moves and opinions about actual NFL players is part of what makes a league fun and is encouraged. Legitimate personal attacks of any kind whatsoever will not be tolerated. While there will be no censorship on language, hate speech of any kind or excessive abuse will not be tolerated. Owners should immediately notify the commissioner of any abusive behavior. Any excessive behavior, at the commissioner's and league council's discretion, will result in banishment from the league with no refund.

4. Anti-Competitive Conduct

Every owner is expected to participate fairly and reasonably. Any overt management behavior that is unfair to the rest of the owners in the league will be subject to penalty or banishment from the league as determined by the commissioner and league council. Such behavior includes intentionally starting bye-week players, benching star players without just cause, cutting players of obvious value to that franchise, collusion and the like. All owners of franchises in this league are expected to understand the basics of fair competition. Any situation that comes up of this nature will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

An often debated strategy in any dynasty league is "tanking". This league believes that each owner has the right to run their franchise how they see fit, however there is a right way and wrong way on how this must be done. A franchise may "legally tank" if they choose to focus their efforts on the future. "Legally tanking" is defined as the below:

Each week they must start their best players at each position that are NOT on their taxi.

Each week they must submit a full starting lineup with non injured, suspended or bye week players, however the player does not have to be a starter on his real NFL team.

While not every owner may agree with this strategy, it is important that each owner has the freedom to run their franchise, their way. A better way to appreciate "legally tanking" is to understand that any owner who chooses to "legally tank" will essentially be donating money for each season of their rebuild. While the real NFL does not like to broadcast this approach, it happens every season and it is part of the game. Furthermore if a "rebuilding" owner decides not to return for the next season, the team will likely be more attractive to potential new owners as it will likely have young players, draft capital and cap space.

In the event a franchise does NOT submit a valid lineup (tanking or not), without a valid explanation (real life emergency, etc) the following sanctions will be taken:

1. First offense will result in a warning
2. Second offense will result in the loss of a 4th rd draft pick (if the team does NOT own a 4th rd pick the next highest round will be forfeited)
3. Third offense will result in removal from the league

III. FEES & PAYOUTS

A. Annual Ownership Fees

To own a franchise in this league the cost is $40 per year which is due before the free agent auction each season. The free agent auction will NOT take place until all 32 franchises have paid their league dues.

B. Early Buy-in for Future Draft Picks

In the event an owner trades away a future draft pick in rounds 1-3, the league dues for that year are required to be paid immediately. For example, if during the 2022 season an owner trades away a 2023 draft pick in any round between 1-3, the owner will be required to pay the 2023 league dues or the trade will be rescinded. A trade involving a draft pick in rounds 4-8 will NOT require an early payment for that season.

C. Payouts

Payouts will be processed after the championship week

32 franchises x $40 each = $1,280

$140 MFL fees

$325 to the FLAG Dynasty Winner

$175 to the FLAG Dynasty runner-up

$50 to the team with the most overall points through the end of the regular season

$70 to the top playoff team in each conference (only teams with a first rd playoff bye week)

$50 to each of the other 6 division winners that do NOT have a first rd playoff bye

$25 to each of the 6 wildcard winners

IV. REGULAR SEASON SCHEDULE & PLAYOFFSA. Regular Season

- 1. The Regular Season will take place over the first 13 weeks of the NFL season.
- 2. Double-header weeks, with each team competing in two games in one week, are used during weeks 1-4 to compensate for having a 17 game season within the first 13 weeks of the NFL regular season.

B. Playoffs

- 1. The Playoffs shall consist of the top seven (7) teams in each conference.
- 2. The Playoffs will take place over NFL weeks 14-17
- 3. The playoff teams will be seeded based on their order of finish, 1 through 7 in each Conference.
- 4. The top team in each Conference shall be given a "bye" week and will not play in the first round of the playoffs
- 5. Tiebreakers for the standings and for playoff seedings will be determined in the following order:
 - i. Overall Winning Percentage
 - ii. H2H
 - iii. Total Points
 - iv. Power Rank
- 6. After the first three rounds of the playoffs, each Conference winner will face off in the League Championship (Super Bowl), played in week 17. The winner of this game will be the League Champion.

V. ROSTERS

Each roster may only contain a maximum of 53 players on the active roster with an additional 10 players on the taxi squad and up to 20 roster spots on the IR. During the offseason franchises will be allowed to have a roster size of up to 70 players on the active roster and 10 players on the taxi, however the team must have the cap space to do this. A decision will be made at a later time to determine whether the active roster must be at or below 53 players prior to the Free Agent Auction or whether the 70 player active roster will remain in effect until the start of the season. More to come on this later.

A. Starting Lineup

There will be 11 starting Offensive Players and 11 Starting Defensive players per team each week. The starting lineups will be as follows:

1QB

1RB

2WR

1TE

1K

5 FLEX RB/WR/TE in any combination

1DT

1DE

3LB (5 MAX)

1CB

1S (4 MAX)

4 FLEX (any combo not going over the max allowable at LB and S)

B. Taxi Squad

Each team will be allowed to carry up to 10 players on a "Taxi Squad". The purpose of a Taxi Squad is for each team to have developmental players whose salaries do not fully impact the teams total cap. [Details below]

C. Injured Reserve

Each team is allowed to assign eligible players to Injured Reserve in order to free up a roster spot and to not absorb the full financial cost of players who are unable to perform based on being injured or otherwise being unavailable. [Details below]

VI. SALARY CAP, PLAYER SALARIES & CONTRACTS

A. Salary Cap Basics

1. The Salary Cap is based on the original salary cap from the initial league salary cap from the first year of its inception, and has been increased by 5% each year since. The cap is a hard cap and may not be exceeded at any time. If a team exceeds its salary cap, a warning will be given and failure to comply will result in a penalty as determined by the commissioner.

2. Each year, the hard cap will rise by 5%.

B. Player Salary Basics

1. Player salaries will be determined by the amount that they are acquired for either in Waiver Bids, Free Agent Auction, or based on their Draft Position in the yearly Rookie Draft.
2. The minimum player salary in the league will be $0.50.
3. The minimum increment for salaries and for bidding will be $0.10.
4. Players salaries will increase by 10% every year they are on a team's roster with a contract.
5. The total number of years of their contract will be reduced every year during the February change to the new league year, which occurs after the NFL Super Bowl.

C. Active Roster Salaries & Contracts

1. An owner can sign a player without an existing Active Roster Contract to a team's Active Roster for any length from 1 to 5 years.
2. Lengths of contracts for all newly acquired players during the off-season (via Free Agent Auction or Rookie Draft) must be submitted by May 29th of each year.
3. A player's Active Roster Contract ends when the contract years have run out or when the player is waived, or when the player retires from the NFL. The player becomes a Free Agent after the term of the contract expires.
4. If a player retires, and is dropped from a team, the team renounces it's right to that player. If a player un-retires and returns to league play, that player is eligible to be acquired as a free agent by any team.
5. If a player is traded from a Team's Active Roster to another team, the player's contract terms remain the same.

D. Taxi Squad Salaries & Contracts

1. Taxi Players' salaries will only count as 10% against the team's Salary Cap.
2. After the annual Rookie Draft, each Franchise has the option of either:
 - a) Assigning the rookie to the Taxi Squad, where the player is given a default Taxi Squad Contract of 3 years.
 - b) Assigning the rookie to the Active Roster, and giving the rookie a Contract of 1-5 years.
3. Each Franchise has until September 1st to assign rookies to either the Taxi Squad or Active Roster and post a message on the League's Message Board with their contract years (1-5 for the active roster, 3 years for the Taxi).
4. Taxi Squad players may only be placed on the Taxi Squad once (after September 1st). Once promoted from the Taxi Squad to the Active Roster, the player may not be placed back on the Taxi Squad and the Franchise has 48 hours to assign a contract by posting a message on the League's Message Board.
5. The Taxi Squad Contract of 3 years is the allotted maximum amount of time a player may remain on the Taxi Squad, and does not affect their Active Roster Contract.
6. If a player from the Taxi Squad is traded, the Franchise receiving that player has 48 hours to either:

a) Assign the newly acquired player to their own Taxi Squad, where the player maintains the original Taxi Squad contract assigned.

b) Assign the player to the Active Roster, and assign the player a contract of 1-5 years by posting on the League's Message Board.

7. Prior to the original Taxi Squad contract expiring, the Franchise must either assign the player to the Active Roster, or the player becomes a free agent.

8. Players on the Taxi Squad may be waived with no cap penalty.

E. Salaries for Injured Reserve (IR) and other Eligible Lists

1. Players on the official NFL Injured Reserve (IR) list, Suspended (S) list, Physically Unable to Perform (PUP), Did Not Report (DNR) or Covid (C) list, are eligible for the FLAG team's Injured Reserve list.

2. Each team will be allowed 20 Injured Reserve (IR) players.

3. Players on the team's Injured Reserve List will only count as 20% towards that team's salary cap.

4. Once a player has been removed from one of the eligible NFL lists, that player must be moved to the team's Active Roster, or the team will have a roster violation.

5. Players who have been placed on a team's IR list may be traded or waived for the normal cap penalties.

F. Contracts for Players Claimed on Waivers

1. Newly acquired players via Waivers must have their contract lengths assigned by owners within 48 hours of the acquisition. A post must be made on the Leagues Message Board.

2. Free Agents signed during the season can be assigned a contract of 1-5 years.

3. If the owner does not assign a contract within 48 hours, the player will be assigned the contract minimum of 1 year.

H. Rookie Contracts

The pay scale for rookie pick is as follows per Draft Round:

1.1 $5.00

1.2 $4.80

1.3 $4.60

1.4 $4.40

1.5 $4.20

VII. TRANSACTIONS

A. In Season Waivers / Free Agents

1. In season free agency will open on September 1st each year and close at the conclusion of our Super Bowl. At that time, all free agents will remain locked until September 1st of the following season. (This does NOT affect the April free agency auction).

2. Each week during the season, all free agents will be locked from the beginning of their game until Wednesday at 8pm CT. During this locked period, each franchise will have the ability to place blind bids for free agents. Each bid must be in increments of .10 with a minimum starting bid of .50. Each franchise must have available cap space to place blind bids. In the event of a tying bid between two franchises, the franchise that placed the bid first, will win the player.

3. After blind bids process, all free agents will be on a first come, first come basis. Each free agent added will be assigned an automatic .50 salary. The franchise will then have 48 hours to make a Message Board post on the league home page for the desired contract length or the player will be given a default 1 year contract.

C. Trades

Trades are encouraged and part of what makes the game more fun, and more interesting.

1. Trades will process automatically and immediately with no approval necessary from the Commissioner or League Council.
2. Teams may trade future draft picks for up to two years in advance. Any trade involving a future draft pick involving rounds 1-3 will require payment by the trading franchise for that season or the trade will be reversed.
3. Once a trade has been proposed and accepted, the trade will be considered final. In the event one franchise, accepted or proposed the trade in an error, must report the error to the Commissioner and the owner of the other team within 10 minutes of the trade's acceptance to request that the trade be voided. Trades will only be reversed if the above criteria has been met OR when both owners agree to reverse the trade. The Commissioner will NOT negotiate or enforce trade reversals that exceed the 10 minute threshold.
4. Players may NOT be traded if they have zero years left on their current contract. This includes players that were previously on a one year contract prior to the league rollover. Players with expired contracts can only be traded if they are first assigned the Franchise Tag (only one player per franchise). A player cannot be traded and the acquiring owner then place the Franchise Tag on said player.
5. Players on a team's Injured Reserve (IR) list may be traded.
6. The trading deadline for each season will be at the conclusion of Week 12.

D. Retirement and other Contract Termination

Players who leave the NFL due to retirement, career-ending injury or (for Christ's sake) death may be cut without penalty. A player who subsequently comes out of retirement will be a free agent if said player is unowned at that time.

E. Salary Cap Penalties For Cuts, Drops and Buyouts

Player contracts are binding for the full terms of the contract. If a franchise chooses to waive (a.k.a. Cut/Drop/Buyout) a player prior to the completion of the contract, the team will face a penalty based on the number of years remaining on the contract (see below). The franchise must also have the allotted cap space to incur the drop penalty or the player cannot be dropped.

- a. Teams that cut/drop a player with one year remaining on their contract (the current year), will be assessed a penalty of 75% of that players salary (e.g. a player cut with one year left [the current season] at a salary of $1.00 will be assessed a penalty for that season of $.75)
- b. Teams that cut a player with multiple years left on their contract will face a one-time penalty (for that season) of 75% for the first year and 33% per additional year (years 2-?) remaining on the contract.

Early Termination Chart

1 Year 75%

Example: $1.00 Contract = $.75 penalty against cap Example: $10.00 Contract = $7.50 penalty against cap

2 Years 75% + 33%

Example: $1.00 Contract = $1.08 penalty against cap Example: $10.00 Contract = $10.83 penalty against cap

3 Years 75% + 33% + 33%

Example: $1.00 Contract = $1.41 penalty against cap Example: $10.00 Contract = $14.16 penalty against cap

4 Years 75% + 33% + 33% + 33%

Example: $1.00 Contract = $1.74 penalty against cap Example: $10.00 Contract = $17.49 penalty against cap

5 Years 75% + 33% + 33% + 33% + 33%

Example: $1.00 Contract = $2.07 penalty against cap Example: $10.00 Contract = $20.70 penalty against cap

VIII. OFF-SEASON SCHEDULE: FRANCHISE TAGS, FREE AGENT AUCTION & ROOKIE DRAFTA. OFF-SEASON SCHEDULE

The off-season begins at the completion of the FLAG Super Bowl. The major events of the Off-Season will include the following:

Drops / Buyouts

Any player with a one year contract may be dropped at anytime regardless of the MFL rollover because the 75% penalty will actually save the franchise cap space, however any player with a multi year contract may NOT be dropped after the FLAG Super Bowl until the MFL rollover has been completed and then all buyout penalties will apply. Any owner that would like to take advantage of "cleaning up their roster" is encouraged to post via the league Message Board, buyouts prior to the FLAG Super Bowl. All buyout penalties and rules still apply. In the event a franchise does NOT have the cap space or does NOT post the buyouts prior to the FLAG Super Bowl a buyout will NOT be processed.

- The two teams competing in the FLAG Super Bowl will have one week after the FLAG Super Bowl to post any buyouts. This is to allow the owners time to make decisions on their roster that do not affect their title matchup.

Franchise Player Declarations

Franchise Tag declarations are due prior to the NFL Super Bowl at a date communicated by the commissioner. Each franchise must make a post on the League Message Board to announce their tagged player. Each team is allowed to Franchise Tag only one player each off-season. It's a "use it or lose it" tag and does NOT rollover if unused. If you tag a player and trade the player, you cannot tag another player.

Free Agent Auction

The Free Agent Auction will take place in mid April, just prior to the real NFL draft. The Free Agent Auction will remain open until all franchises have stopped nominating players for at least 24 hours. After the completion of the Free Agent Auction, free agents will lock until just before the new season begins

B. FRANCHISE TAGS

Franchise Tags are designations that can be given to players whose contracts have expired to extend the rights to that player for its current team by one (1) year. Each team will only have ONE franchise tag per season that can be assigned at the end of each season, prior to the Off-Season Free Agent Auction. All Franchise Tags must be designated just before the real-world NFL Super Bowl at a date communicated by the commissioner at the end of each season.

1. Franchise Tag Salaries for Teams Applying the Tag for the First Time

Franchise Tags applied to players that are tagged by that team for the first time, will be based on the average of the top 10 salaries at the position

2. Franchise Tag Renewal Salaries

A player may be assigned a Franchise Tag for multiple years, but there will be an additional cost added to the base Franchise Tag cost based on the following:

Year 2 +25%

Year 3 +30%

Year 4 +35%

Year 5 +40%

The purpose for this increase is to balance out teams abilities to keep premiere players with the leagues motivation of active player movement from team to team. The Franchise Tag value DOES NOT roll over to have multiple franchise tags in the following years. It is used on a use it or lose it basis.

C. Offseason Free Agent Auction

1. The Offseason Free Agent Auction allows teams to acquire players whose contracts have expired at the end of the previous season, or who have remained in the Free Agent pool. The Auction is hosted on the league site, with owners receiving emails when their time on the auction clock has begun.

2. This Offseason Free Agent Auction will occur every year prior to the Rookie Draft.

3. The Offseason Free Agent will be begin with at 16 hour clock, but after the auction gets up to speed, most likely after one day, the clock will be decreased in time to allow the auction to complete in a timely manner that can be fair to all teams (i.e. not letting it drag on so long that news about the player would drastically change the decisions made earlier in the auction vs. later in the auction)

4. The starting bid for all players will be $0.5 and the minimum bidding increment will be $0.1.

5. Initially, each team is allowed to submit three (4) players for bidding in order to give each team an even chance to nominate players. As the auction proceeds, that number will increase as needed to expedite the draft.

6. The Offseason Free Agent Auction will end when bids have ceased for each Conference for at least 24 hours.

7. Free agents will be given a default contract of one year. If a team wishes to sign an offseason player to a longer contract, the owner must post a message on the Leagues Message Board by May 29th. Free agents signed in the offseason may be assigned a contract between 1 and 5 years.

D. ROOKIES AND THE ROOKIE DRAFT

Draft Structure

1. The yearly rookie draft will only include players who have left college and entered the NFL through the draft.
2. The annual rookie draft will take place each year in the month of May.
3. The rookie draft will consist of 8 rounds. The rookie draft order will be determined based on the previous season's final standings except for playoff teams, which will be based on final standings. Using this format, the team with the worst record will pick first and the championship winner will pick 16th in every round, for each conference (barring trades).
5. Tiebreakers for situations where teams have the same record are as follows, with the tiebreaker winner receiving the higher numerical pick:

H2H

Total points

Draft Clock

The rookie draft will have a 12 hour pick clock. The 12 hour clock is set at that length not because each team should take 12 hours to make a decision, but to actually live life beyond the glorious world of fantasy football (albeit as briefly as possible). Owners should make their pick as rapidly as possible. As you know, owners are excited to make their picks, so if you know you'll be away from the site for a while, or are considering trade offers, or are infinitely confounded by the options available to you, please notify the rest of the league so that they might not get too anxious and do anything rash or speak in an offensive manner.

IX. CONTINGENCIES

A. Player Position Definition

Player positions are determined by the myfantasyleague.com (MFL) site. Owners should be aware that MFL may change a player's position at any time pursuant to that player's NFL team changing their position, e.g switching a player who was previously a defensive end (DE) that of a defensive tackle (DT) or linebacker (LB). These changes shall not be overruled and salaries and contract years shall not be changed as a result of a player switching position. Teams are responsible for assessing the possibility that a given player may change positions before acquiring that player.

B. Scoring Changes

Every week after all NFL games are played and all fantasy scores are calculated, the Elias Sports Bureau reviews all NFL games for the purposes of locating and calculating any necessary corrections to the official team and player statistics compiled during each game. These corrections will be applied to league scores when they are released by Elias and the NFL, which is usually on Wednesday morning.

Owners should be aware that the outcome of a game that was tied or won by a small margin may change after the Elias Sports Bureau's scoring corrections are applied. The JLA will apply the official scoring corrections without exception, and owners may not appeal the changed scoring, the changed outcome of a game, or request that the official scoring corrections be disregarded.

C. Orphan Teams

In the case of a team being abandoned, decisions will be made by the League Council on a case-by-case basis as to how to manage the team and replace the owner.

D. Replacement Owners

Anytime a new owner takes over an "Orphan Team", the new owner will be allowed up to 5 amnesty (free) drops regardless of how bad or good the roster is.

E. Missed Draft Picks

1. Given that the myfantasyleague.com site allows a team to pre-select players, and the fair warning of when the draft will occur, if you miss your pick...you're out of luck bro or bro-inna. If a team has not pre-selected a pick and time expires, the draft will move on to the next team. After that, the owner must notify the Commissioners of their pick and will only be allowed to select a player that is still currently available. As a penalty, the player that the team selects will be given the salary that the missed pick would have had.

2. If an owner leaves the league during the rookie draft and has at least one rookie pick, the draft will be paused until a replacement owner is found. If an owner is not found within one week, the Commissioner shall finish the rookie draft for the team and continue looking for a replacement.

3. Rookies may be placed on the Taxi Squad (TS) after being drafted and the franchise has until September 1st to make final decisions based on rookie players being placed on the Taxi or active roster.

F. Unexpected World Events

If an unexpected event occurs, like a pandemic, the League Council will weigh options on a case-by-case basis.

F. Gold Stars

If you've read all of the bylaws you get a Gold Star.
