Hint: You may use this page to load your player salaries from another source. Note that this should only be used during the pre-season to initialize your player salaries. It will wipe out all your current salaries.

Select A Packaged Salary Option

Select how you want to initialize your salaries:

☒ None, leave them as is.

☐ Copy them from another league.

☐ Generate them from last year's player stats

☐ Load them from the final bid value in this league's auction.

☐ Copy player salaries from one conference to another

☐ Use MyFantasyLeague.com default salaries (based on preseason rankings)

☐ Use MFL Weekly DFS Salaries. These salaries are updated every week and are optimized for contest leagues using a $60,000 salary cap. Read more about this here.

Hint: When copying from another league, the contract information will also be copied.

☐ I understand that this will replace ALL my league salaries (and contract information when copying from another league or conference) with the selected packaged data.
